

Letters and Sounds for home and school.

From Monday 27th April 2020, DfE are helping to produce daily phonics lessons accessible to children and parents via YouTube. These lessons will follow the Letters and Sounds scheme that we use in school. Children should be relatively familiar with the structure of these sessions. If you search 'Letters and Sounds for home and school' in YouTube you will find the resources however I will share them with you on Class Dojo also.

These will be very useful to support children learning and practising phonics at home!

Reception lessons are available every day at 10 am and Year 1 Lessons are available every day at 10.30 am. I will share the link with you on Class Dojo each day for both, both may be useful depending up on which sounds your child already knows!

These are for guidance and support everyone knows different sounds so do not worry – if your child already knows the sound being covered in the daily lesson or you feel they are struggling with these, please practice phonics daily your selves in a different way e.g Phonics Play, Spellings etc instead.

**Please note – when using this resource please ensure you are watching and engaging in it with your child. Due to age restrictions children must not access YouTube by themselves without adult supervision and I do not expect them to use YouTube for any other purposes except this learning video shared.****
